Approximately 1.5 trillion yen by around 2030
(including 250 billion yen already announced for domestic production reorganization.
This could vary significantly depending on our approach to battery investment.)

Ensure consistent shareholder returns with stronger focus on improving capital efficiency:

- Pay stable and continuous dividends and flexibly repurchase shares based on a comprehensive assessment of business performance, investment plans, and the business environment. (Aim for total return ratio of 30-50%)

“Industry-leading profit margins” remains a goal to be achieved when the initiatives are completed.

Thank you
