Roslindale Ultra expands my display serif that takes its inspiration from De Vinne, a typeface named for the famed nineteenth century printer and attributed to Gustav Schroeder and Nicholas Werner of the Central Type Foundry. This new Ultra weight goes bolder and wider than the original Display family. It also has similarities to the bold, high-contrast, Victorian-inspired serifs of designers such as Herb Lubalin, Tom Carnase, and Ed Benguiat that defined American typography in the 1970s.

Available formats:

Desktop	OpenType CFF (OTF)

DJR draws letters of all shapes and sizes for custom and retail typeface designs. A native of Los Angeles, he began drawing typefaces at Hampshire College and joined The Font Bureau in 2007 where he honed his bézier-wrangling skills. Now he publishes visually imaginitive and technically advanced designs at his own foundry, including Fit, Manicotti, Input, Gimlet, and Bungee.
